"Suffered day and night" torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently."—Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala.

A Plea to Parents.

Here is a little "talk" which it seems to me may be needed in some homes visited by our paper. It is meant especially for homes where there are young daughters, and it is not a fancy picture as those who have observed such things can testify. It is after nine o'clock—curfew hour; ogling men lean on sidewalk railings and wait at street corners. There they come down the street, arm in arm, two young girls with fresh, rosy faces. Abundant braids of hair fall down their backs. Natty little gowns come to their shoe-tops. They are schoolgirls in their early teens. There is no chaperon and no escort. The girls are out alone and the hour is rather late. Young men and the girls may be strangers to one another, yet there is some sort of freemasonry between them. The glances of the young men are bold; the eyes of the girls are not timid as they turn them backward, with the hint of a smile. Flippant words are exchanged. But what can one do? If their natty guardians are not there to protect, what right have you to interfere? Here and there may be found a brave spirit whom a great pity will move to stay and warn, and take the risk, but good Samaritans are few. And so young girls are infatuated with the passions and powers of womanhood—thinking to tread the primrose path of dalliance, go down to ruin.

Whose fault is it? Is it the fault of the girls? Who sent them out into the night or allowed them to go unprotected? Who failed or neglected to warn them of temptation? Who supposed, when they had dressed their girls as well as the neighbor's girl, their duty was done? There is but one answer to these questions—father and mother.

A lady who answers an advertising says: "No lady wishes to be looked upon as a shopping fiend; she does not care to go into a store and have a merchant show all his stock in order to find out whether he keeps what she wishes to purchase and whether the article is sold at a price she can afford. It is much easier and pleasanter to look through the advertisements in a paper than it is to bore the clerks and wait her own time. Next to the local news items, the advertisements in a paper stating articles for sale with prices, will keep much of the money at home that now goes to Salt Lake, and Chicago. Catalogue houses.

Hidden Danger.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No American Fork Citizen Can Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's an American Fork proof:

Mrs. E. E. McBride, living on East County Road, American Fork, Utah, says: "I suffered for some time with kidney disease. The most annoying symptom was a pain through the groin and a retention of the kidney secretions. I had attacks of dizziness and dark spots floating before my eyes. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box to try them at the American Fork Drug Co's store. This remedy quickly relieved me of the pains, regulated the secretions and since using it I have no more attacks of dizziness. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a reliable and safe cure for kidney disease."
